Bantex Illustrations

Multicolor Binder Design

Binder multicolor illustration series for Bantex. The unique design is targeted for the young female and male students. The concept is about a brave and confident cat named "Coco". The motivational quotes are added to help encourage young people. This project is still in progress with Bantex.

Ordinary Cats

Tarot Card Illustration

Created for an illustration class project, Tarots are usually known for their mystical and dark side. To remove this frightening misconception behind tarot cards, colorful and funny illustrations of cats were illustrated to convey a more happy and fun element. The concept revolves around the characteristics of ordinary cats.

Where Did Coco Go?

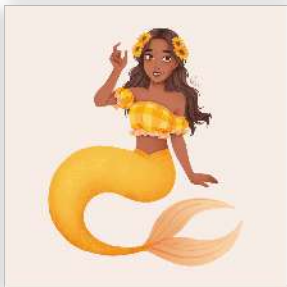

Children's Book Illustration

Where Did Coco Go? is a children's book that explores the topic of loss and grief. With charming illustrations and simple text to help children understand loss, the concept is inspired by the stages of grief. This was illustrated for an illustration final assignment.
